Pop Up Dinner by Whisk and Haley House January 11 & 12, 7:30pm at 23 Dartmouth Street

Whisk will be popping up with Haley House's Transitional Employment Program (TEP) to celebrate the newly expanded, collaborative culinary training program. Chefs from Whisk and TEP will be crafting a unique five-course meal (see past menus here) that will highlight TEP's gained knowledge in the culinary field. Please join us at Haley House, located at 23 Dartmouth Street in the South End, on Jan. 11th and 12th at 7:30 pm. Tickets are limited and available here. Wine tasting is complimentary with purchase of the ticket.

TEP on film with Re-enter: My New Community An Emerson student-produced documentary

"It's astounding to me how much I learned in this process... It is by far one of the most rewarding experiences of my Emerson career," said Christine Maroon, reflecting on the experience of making a documentary film about Haley House's Transitional Employment Program (TEP). The film, produced by Ryan Egan '13, Christine Maroon '13, Megan McLaughlin '13, Gina Varamo '13, and part-time faculty member and filmmaker Bob Nesson (whose photo of the screening is seen above) premiered on December 14th to a packed Cafe.

The Emerson students were charged to create a documentary to highlight an organization working towards social change. Stories were gathered through interviews and documented daily activities - including 4:00am wholesale deliveries! Please join us in congratulating the student's wonderful work, viewable here.

Remembering Dudley Wednesday, January 16, 7:00-10:00pm at HHBC

Dudley is remembered as a vibrant business district drawing people from near and far. Join us, and bring your own special memories of Dudley to share. The program, moderated by State Representative Byron Rushing, will include discussion by panelists (all born and raised in Roxbury) and audience members alike. Please bring photos or special treasures to share if you have them, and come early for
