HALEY HOUSE NEWS - JUNE 2011

Dear Friends,

Signs of summer are finally upon us. Summer interns and BC Presidential Scholars are busy with projects at 23 Dartmouth, and the umbrellas are out at the Bakery Cafe, offering shade to those dining at the outdoor tables.

This week, Boston City Council pronounced June 8th as Haley House Cookie Day in the City of Boston, presenting Haley House with a citation for 45 years of service and honoring Daniel Cordon with one for his work on the Transitional Employment Program. Friends came down for the ceremony, as a send-off to Danny who is leaving his managerial role at Haley House Bakery Cafe to move with his family to North Carolina.

Here is some more news from Haley House:

Join us for the Haley House Silent Auction and Wine Tasting on Saturday June 18th from 4-6pm

Please join us on June 18th from 4-6pm at our Soup Kitchen (23 Dartmouth Street in the South End) for our annual Silent Auction and Wine Tasting. It is a wonderful community and family-oriented event – with free admission! Come and enjoy tasty food, great music, and fantastic company.

This year, in addition to the usual array of gift certificates for restaurants, art, neighborhood items, getaways, etc, we will also have a special raffle for a Fenway package that includes two tickets for a Red Sox/Yankees game.

Please bring cash or check for wine tasting donations and/or items you win in the Silent Auction!

Haley House Jazz Brunch Fundraiser on Sunday June 26th

When Haley House Bakery Cafe first opened in Roxbury, we gained quite a reputation for our Sunday Jazz Brunch, with its delicious food and great music. Years later, folks are still talking about it, and we thought we would reprise it as a fundraiser for the Bakery Cafe and its programming on June 26th, with two seatings.

This brunch will feature the music of Fulani Haynes and a full spread of food to enjoy.

June 30th - Our Final Performance of the SeasonMwalim Allah and the Groovalottos Get Ready for Soul, Funk and Phun!*Congratulations, Thanks, and Farewell to Daniel Cordon

Daniel Cordon joined the staff of Haley House Bakery Cafe two years ago, and during his time, he grew the catering, increased the wholesale business and reinvented the training program as the Transitional Employment Program (TEP). TEP offered its participants a more comprehensive support system, drawing on many resources within Haley House, and its transformational power impacted everyone in the organization. For these gifts, we are all very grateful to Danny. We all wish him well for his new life in Asheville, North Carolina.

We will keep you posted on our summer schedule.
