Happy New Year from the Soup Kitchen!

We had a great Christmas and New Years at the soup kitchen, and even enjoyed a few days of unseasonably warm weather! Guests were excited to receive some holiday chocolate and new hats, gloves, and neck warmers. We're grateful for everyone who donated their time around the holidays, and all of the amazing groups who organized clothing drives on our behalf! We continue to be in need of regular volunteers at the soup kitchen. If giving back to the community, meeting new friends, becoming a morning person, or learning new recipes are on your list of new year's resolutions, please join us sometime soon! If you aren't already on our volunteer list, click the button below to join us.

Updates from Haley House Bakery Café

With the construction of 2147 Washington Street beginning soon in the Haley House Bakery Café parking lot and with the ongoing implications of the pandemic on our business, we will be suspending operations of the Bakery Café at the end of the day on January 14th, with all business there wrapping up by January 31st.

During the hiatus in Café operations, we will continue to base TBK and other programming from the Café and anticipate further growth in future years. We are grateful for everyone who has supported the Bakery Café over the years and those who have showcased their talents and made it a community hub. We want to honor the work of the team of folks who have made the Café a success through the years, particularly the stalwart efforts of management and staff at the Café through the challenges of the pandemic. We look forward to the new iteration of Haley House's presence in Nubian Square once the construction is completed.

A Time for Reflection

Winter offers our Urban Agriculture Team the much needed time to assess the last season and plan for spring. Each year, it becomes more clear that the land has so many lessons to teach us about belonging, connection, and nourishment. Between May and November of 2021, our hardworking farm team harvested thousands of pounds of food, half of which was distributed to our neighbors through the Highland Park Senior Produce distribution program. Another third of the harvests were enjoyed by our local community partners and neighbors, while the rest of the food was put to good use in Haley House's own kitchens. Beyond the harvests, the farm was a space for community to thrive in 2021, especially through weekly family-friendly programming.

As we dream up plans for the coming year, please reach out to farm@haleyhouse.org if you would like to share any ideas or reflections!
